

ECO Learning Network Conference 2022 Pedagogy and Practice in Nature Education

Friday March 25 (online)

Saturday March 26 (Mueller Hall, RBG Melbourne)

Program

Day 1 – Keynote speakers include:

Tim Gill, writer/advocate, on children's participation in decision-making

Inga Simpson, author, on the intersection of physical & imaginative landscapes

Ann Slater, teacher/researcher, on de-colonizing teaching on Country

Cecilia See Kee, Indigenous education and inclusion specialist

Panel discussion with Barbara Chancellor, Sue Elliott, Fran Hughes and Karen Anderson

Day 2 – Workshops include:

Marc Martin, author, on the inspiration behind his books

Doug Fargher, teacher, on the evolution of a Bush Kinder

Pascale Pitot, conservationist, on telling a murnong from a dandelion

Lisa Coxon, teacher, on making learning in nature visible for families

Karen Anderson, teacher, on story telling in nature programs

Janine (Jaffa) Richardson, indigenous early learning programs facilitator, on teaching culture & language in nature

Morning Tea provided, BYO lunch

$40 (Friday online only) or $140 (Friday online & Saturday workshops)

Book at: <https://www.trybooking.com/BVZSC>